

Business Membership

TXSES Business Members lend their voices and expertise to educate Texans about the benefits of solar energy. They serve on committees and understand the bigger picture of TXSES' statewide impact.

Support from our generous solar business community enables TXSES to continue to lead the transition to solar, helping to meet the ever-changing challenges facing the industry.

Our work includes consumer confidence building, policy work at the Texas Legislature and Public Utilities Commission of Texas (PUCT), workforce training, education, conferences, and referrals.

To ensure consumer confidence, all installers are required to sign a code of conduct and ethical requirements. We believe this practice creates an accurate and honest environment with values that reflect our business and ethical beliefs.
